

I AM FROM

I am from

the tranquil waves that presides in western in Canada

The booming voices and sound of children running down the stairs

The playful teasing of brother and father

Fat tears and ear-piercing screams

The taste of steaming hot lentils and spaghetti in my mouth

I am from

The great lush fat trees

Singing birds at sunrise

Leaves full of holes and little creatures

Deers skating across cars

The light of the car right up my face

I am from

Christmas filled with laughter and chatter

The room with the people at the centre of the universe

A shattering ringing tell us to run

Feet dancing in furry clothes on a cramp floor

The silence after its all over

I am from

Constant burning fire

desks on the floor and pieces of thrown objects

Flames too much for on body

Fingers pointing at Red, Green and Yellow

Learned to turn to ash than let it out
