THE BOARD

The board is made of tectonic plates and it takes place on the Pacific plate.

Convergent plate boundaries are high mountains or volcanoes that you need to roll at least a three to get over the person with the most evidence cards rolls first.

When you land on an evidence square if you get the trivia question wrong you go back two spaces

If you land on the red square the squares move because of continental drift. Making the people behind you not able to land on the square or they go back 4

If you get hit by a volcano you go back 4 squares for an earthquake you go back 3 and for a tsunami you go back 2

There's a giant volcano in the middle and if you land on a square that has lava running through it you go back 2 spaces. The only way to get out of this is to get a lava resistance potion which you can get from evidence cards and can be used once at anytime.

There is a deck of lucky cards that you draw from every 5 turns and you can get anything good.

CARDS

Evidence cards

These cards can be drawn when you land on a square that lets you draw one from the deck. These cards have good things on the back that you can use if you answer the question on the front, if you get the question wrong you go back 1 space, but you do not need to answer the question it's your choice. If you don't answer the question you do not go back any spaces, but you don't get to use the evidence card. There are three seismograph cards, it makes you immune to one earthquake. There are three hotspot maps. There are three tsunami buoys. There are 3 sets of climbing gear. And finally three all star cards that contain all for things.

Lucky cards

These cards are in the middle of the game board and you draw from them every 5 turns the only have good cards, you can only have three at a time, just like evidence cards, good luck. Lucky cards are the same as evidence cards but you do not need to answer a question.

If you land on an evidence square you draw a card that has something good on the back, you can only use it if you answer the questionnaire on the front, for example the card may say what evidence of a convergent plate boundary and you have to come up with evidence.

A seismograph gives you immunity to one earthquake, A hot spot map gives you immunity to one lava square, a tsunami buoy gives you immunity to one tsunami, a set of climbing gear gives you one free jump over a mountain, and an all star card contains all of the above in one card.

PROBABILITY

3/15 seismograph
3/15 hot spot map
3/15 tsunami buoys
3/15 all star cards hardest questions
3/15 climbing gear

When you hit a mountain you can only get past by either using all your claiming cards (you need 3 cards) or you can roll the die and you have to get 5 or 6. 2/6

There are 50 squares

30% evidence squares
4% earthquake squares
16% lava squares
4% tsunami squares
8% mountain squares
62% all non normal squares
38% normal squares

15 squares are evidence card squares
2 earthquake square
8 lava squares
2 tsunami square
4 mountain square
31/50

19 empty squares

There are 15 evidence cards and 15 lucky, 30 in total, There is 1 dice, the players take turns rolling it whatever the dice lands on is how many squares you move forward.

There is 1 dice and it's 6 sided

SCIENCE CONCEPTS

Convergent plate boundaries, Evidence, Mountains and volcanoes

Evidence cards, tests your scientific knowledge of the tectonic plates

Probabilities, the chances of things in the game happening

Continental drift, if you land on certain squares there is plate movement, Evidence, Similar rocks, similar fossils and climatological evidence.

Natural disasters, it takes place in Hawaii which is on the Pacific plate, There are lots of tsunamis, earthquakes and volcanoes

Evidence cards have scientific tools you can use to your advantage, they have seismographs, hot spot maps, tsunami buoys, climbing gear and all star cards

There is a volcano in the middle of the map, it has lava running through it and that lava reaches some of the squares

NO TEAMING !!!!

If you are found teaming you will get hit by a massive tsunami and go back 15 spaces.
